CITY OPENS NEW STREET CONTINUING NECAISE THRU CARROLL TO ULMAN

Street Space Between Central School and Waterworks Closed And Dedicated to Playground Purposes—To Further Protect Children.

Board of Bay St. Louis city commissioners had a force of workmen on the scene Wednesday morning cutting a new street, 30 feet wide, continuing Nicaise Avenue thru Carroll to Ullman avenues. After grading and ditching surface will be shelled and put in the best possible condition.

The public will welcome this new street or continuation of Nicaise on to Ullman or more popularly known as the Spanish Trail. This marked improvement will be welcomed and the board of Mayor and Commissioners are to be commended for this thoughtful and useful improvement.

That portion back of Bay Central School premises, separating school yard from waterworks plant and heretofore open as a passage way, and never dedicated as a public street is now closed and forms part of the school playgrounds.

This, the authorities point out, was done in order not only to give more playground to the school but as a protection to children. And as such, the purpose will have been served. Located near Second street there was no necessity of this street-like passage and it will serve to better purpose as private school premises.

Mayor Blaise and Commissioners Bourgeois and Perkins ever have the interest of school and children uppermost in mind and this latest move will prove not only as serving additional room but a decided protection.

USHER SOCIETY TO MEET AND PREPARE FOR ORPHAN DRIVE

To Assemble at K. C. Hall—Solicitation to Mark Thanksgiving Season.

The members of the Usher Society of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf will meet at the K. C. Home this Thursday evening, for their annual banquet and election meeting. At this meeting they will also make plans for the annual drive for funds for our two orphanages in Natchez which is to take place during Thanksgiving week. This drive will consist of a house to house solicitation. Since our Orphanages care for quite a number of non-Catholic orphans, non-Catholics as well as Catholics of this city will be asked by the Ushers to help our Orphanages.

Sunday afternoon from 1:30 to 2 o'clock orphans from our institutions in Natchez in connection with the drive for funds will broadcast a program from the Gulfport Radio Station (W. G. C. M.).

NEW FIXTURES ADDED TO DICKSON DRUG CO.'S STORE

Rear Wall of Store Greets Eye With Modern Arrangement as Customer Enters Establishment

Shipment of new fixtures were received this week for the Dickson Drug Company's store on the beach front, opposite A. & G. Theater and were at once unpacked and put in place.

The series of upright open faced cases carry shelves that graduate in size from top to bottom and are so constructed as to present merchandise in the most appealing manner and also to the advantage of the customer making selection.

"Relegated with the past is the glass shielded shelf case. Regardless of advantages that may be enumerated in behalf of fixtures of yesterday. Glass might be said to keep out dust, etc., but it also keeps away the customer—a bar from getting closer and seeing better, a manner of presentation that is more intimate and finally convincing.

For the Christmas holidays the Dickson Drug Company will offer an unusually interesting line of gifts and it will be a mighty fine gesture to patronize such enterprise that is giving the opportunity to keep Bay St. Louis dollars at home.

SANTA TO VISIT BAY CHILDREN

Toyland, Nov. 14, 1937.
Dear Mrs. Favre—
I received your letter inviting me to attend the Christmas Fiesta, and I will be there to meet all the little boys and girls of Bay St. Louis, and if they will give me their letters I will see that they get the toys they want for Christmas.

This will be a surprise for the children. I am going to send one of my sleds to the Fiesta and will leave it there so that some little boy or girl may win it.

I am happy to receive your invitation and will be there with bells on.

Yours very truly,

SANTA CLAUS.
Boys and girls be sure and be present at the Fiesta. Buy your tickets now and get the benefit of the 5c cash coupon, and have your mother and father to buy their tickets now too, so they can get the benefit of the two 5c cash coupons. If they wait to buy them at the door that night it will cost them 25c and 10c and no coupons.

There will be fun and amusement at the Fiesta for young and old.

There will be plenty of beautiful dolls, fancy work and useful articles to buy or win and plenty of good things to eat and drink and the prices will be reasonable.

Dr. Laurent Dickson Addresses Students On Armistice Day.

Dr. Laurent Dickson, legionnaire, Bay St. Louis, was the speaker for the Armistice Day program, in the school auditorium at the memorable hour of 11 o'clock.

The speaker, who had been overseas two years and saw active service, dwelt on the horrors of war and related experiences when Armistice was declared.

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1, under the direction of their able leader, Mrs. Briscoe Goldman, presented the Colors and pledged allegiance to the Flag. The freshmen sang the National Anthem and "Taps" were played at the conclusion of the program.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN RAID NINE SALOONS AND GAMBLING PLACES

A State precedent was set Saturday night when 68 National Guardsmen, under Major T. B. Birdsong, simultaneously raided nine saloons and gambling resorts across Pearl River from Jackson, destroying much gambling equipment, seizing slot machines, capturing 100 cases of liquor, and arresting 18 or 20 persons, says the Jackson Clarion-Ledger.

It is the first time that troops have been used as peace officers. They operated as such, obtaining search warrants before making the raids.

No "material law" was invoked. Lawyers may, probably will, on trial of the defendants, attack the constitutionality or validity of the raids and the evidence obtained in this manner. Some of the cases may eventually reach the Supreme Court.

Meantime, however, regardless of the ultimate outcome, this was plainly the most effective blow yet struck at the Gold Coast resorts across the river. Warnings had been ignored. County officials seemed helpless, unable or unwilling to close these resorts. And court orders, padlock injunctions, seemed ineffective, as several of the places raided reportedly were under such injunctions.

The incident reminds that this will be another of the major issues before the Legislature—proposed establishment of a state police force to help enforce the laws against liquor-selling and gambling. Despite the apparent success of this one series of raids, use of troops for this purpose has proved costly and comparatively ineffective, and the issue faces the law-makers.

Miss Louise Crawford, Librarian for Hancock County, Tells While There Are Less Than 12000 Inhabitants Over 5000 Volumes Were Placed in Library.

RED CROSS CALLING FOR HELP

Local Roll Call Chairman Issues Call and Tells of Constructive Work

Mrs. E. C. Carrere, roll call chairman, Red Cross, Hancock county, has issued an appeal for roll call dues; and in her appeal gives considerable information about the organization and how it operates. Have you sent in your dollar? This contribution will identify you.

Here is the appeal—
I wonder if you know that the Red Cross Drive is now under way for Hancock county?

Hancock county cannot afford to do less than other counties are doing. It's citizens are always the leaders when they are needed and Red Cross needs them now. They will not fail. They never have.

Do you know that for every dollar invested in Red Cross last year Mississippi received seven dollars in return?

Do you know that Diphtheria Toxoid serum and medicines are furnished by your local Red Cross Chapter?

Do you know that Diphtheria Toxoid chapter has a loan closet where sheets, pillow cases and bed pads may be borrowed for expectant mothers and in other cases of illness where such articles are needed?

Do you know that no paid official of the Red Cross is paid out of the membership fund?

Do you know that when you join the Red Cross you are in reality joining the National Red Cross but the National Red Cross takes fifty cents leaving fifty cents in your chapter for local work?

It is expected that all schools have a 100 per cent rating for their teachers. (Don't forget what the Red Cross did for the school children.)

We need your Dollar but we need your co-operation as well.

The drive is on; Shoulder to shoulder let's go.

This pre-Thanksgiving celebration will be largely attended, this indicated by the general response from the public. And it is fitting for such event there be such celebration and entertainment as Uncle Charlie plans.

There will be two trophies awarded, one to a lady and the other to a gentleman judged the best dancer. "Big-Apple" contest will be the high feature of the evening.

A turkey will be given as entrance prize for the evening. In all the program, including favors, will be attractive and it is safe to say many will take advantage of the evening of pleasure offered at this up-to-date and delightful resort for ladies and gentlemen.

Ladies Circle To Give Dance For Thanksgiving Night

Ladies of Pine Grove Circle, No. 167, will entertain on Thanksgiving Night at W. O. W. Hall, Bay St. Louis at a Thanksgiving Ball. Music will be supplied by the Dixie Swingers, popular dance orchestra. Admission charge 50 cents for gentlemen and 25 cents for ladies.

Ladies of the Circle are planning a delightful occasion for Thanksgiving and their friends and the public in general from Bay St. Louis, along the coast and the surrounding country are cordially invited. Thanksgiving is next Thursday.

The Rotary Club presented a program in observance of National Book Week Wednesday at Hotel Reed. The speaker for the occasion was Miss Louise Crawford, local librarian. She gave a very interesting account of the local library, relating the prominent part played in every day life in Hancock county and Bay St. Louis by the library. To emphasize this fact, she presented figures showing that there were less than 12,000 inhabitants in the county, while the library placed over 5000 books in the county during the past year.

Miss Crawford told of the many different sources from where books were received; of the generosity of so many people in assisting toward the improvement of the library. She mentioned the help received from the W. P. A. which enabled them to put the books of the library at the disposal of every community in the county. This splendid service is accomplished through funds furnished by the W. P. A. She explained that a certain number of books were kept on the "Pay Shelf" at all times, this money being used to buy more books.

In conclusion she expressed grateful appreciation in behalf of the library organization for the wholehearted support and splendid co-operation accorded the library by each and every individual, and especially for the kindness of the Hancock County Bank in furnishing space in the Bank Building for use by the library. Miss Crawford expressed anticipation of a dream that some day the local library would occupy a spacious building of their own. She admitted that that was "some dream," but showed her confidence in the growth and need of the local library.

The annual drive for Red Cross membership is in progress and Bay St. Louis and Hancock is called upon to do its quota. The subject is self-appealing and there seems no necessity to arouse one's feelings and sympathies in behalf of the cause. Everyone is acquainted with the mission of mercy and relief carried on in time of catastrophe and disaster over the country. A phase of ill fortune that befalls any community; it may happen here.

From reports of local solicitors there are many who have failed to respond. Silence has never met a call, has never paid a bill and has never discharged an obligation. Silence does not conceal one's shortcomings nor failures. Neither does it fulfill the obligation expected of a citizen, of a right-minded and right-living individual. Silence cancels no debt. It is frequently the argument of the weak and the disinclined.

SINCLAIR NEW SERVICE STATION FOR FIRST OF YEAR

A. E. Voight, Lessee and Operator, to Operate Business For Self.

Building of gasoline and service station by the Lamar Life Insurance Company, owner of the lots, corner Front and Court Street, is rapidly assuming shape and it is planned to have the building finished and ready for occupancy by January 1. J. P. Fowler, contractor and builder of Hattiesburg, plans to have the construction finished before that time but its active occupancy will probably not take place until the first of the year.

This service station and the new garage building to the rear has been leased by Mr. Albert E. Voight, at present operating the filling station corner Front and Main streets, and who, after January 1, will relinquish its business and conduct the new one.

Mr. Voight is owner of the Chevrolet Company and in addition to selling Sinclair products will continue the local sales agency for Chevrolet, "the complete car." He plans to continue keeping quite a stock of the '38 models for selection and immediate delivery to the trade. With the new garage building he will be able to accommodate more cars in stock and continue repair and adjustment work on a larger scale. The move is made in order to expand his business, to serve a larger clientele.

There will be a formal opening due notice of which will be given the public.

CHANGING WITH THE TIMES.

THERE seems to be a general reaction crystallizing as regards train versus other kind of transportation for traveling.

Railroads over country report a marked advance in the number of people traveling whereas heretofore they would go by other means.

This is a good sign not only for railroad and country whose prosperity in large measure depends on the success of its rail facilities but to the effect conditions are better.

True our railroads never offered better service. Many innovations have been set-up and we find a spirit of willingness to do and that a uniform courtesy extends through all branches of the service.

Employers are more cordial, accommodating and obliging. Ticket sellers are more civil and less reluctant.

There was a time the window attendant would hardly condescend to sell a ticket, to give the tariff and other information concerning a journey. And if one ever found out how late a train was running behind, well—that was something.

A similar austere individual formerly met the patron at the theater ticket window in the same manner and the fellow behind the counter at hotel would hardly bend or blink an eyelash when queried. He would invariably ruthlessly shove the register forward and poke a pen into your face. Dumb or preoccupied.

Today the order of things has changed and people must do likewise with the constant transitions. They seem to have changed for the better. And the depression, while it is hard to see if any good has evolved from adverse times, it has at least turned man serving the public at least human.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

WITH Thanksgiving next Thursday, Christmas is but around the corner. This year it will fall on a Saturday, with Friday as the Eve and a Sunday as the day following—three holidays in a group. That this will make for a longer holiday is evident by reference to the calendar and the possibilities of a longer time for festivities immediate to Christmas Day no one can gainsay.

It is going to be a great Christmas time and if the country is in a better shape and people more prosperous there should be more yielding of the purse strings. Greater flow of spending will make for a more active season. Aside from religious and sentimental phases Christmas is a time for spending and revelry.

No season of the year animates business more. It is the supreme time for commercial acceleration; an impetus to trade without parallel. The manufacturer and merchant scores heavily and since it is business that lubricates and make the wheels of industry go round we may expect, as a result, considerable improvement in the trend for better business.

With these thoughts in preface there should be an abundant Christmas spirit, satisfaction for the masses and happiness for the individual.

55TH BIRTHDAY.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S 55th birthday, on January 30th, will again be the occasion for public participation in the fight against infantile paralysis. Because the new National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which was created in September, has not yet been completely organized, the celebration this year will be planned and carried out by the Warm Springs Foundation, but the funds raised will go to the new foundation.

Next Thursday Turkey Day. Thanksgiving will be observed the country over.

What has become of the ancient paragraph who penned jokes about turkeys at this season of the year?

The advice may be a bit early but a subscription to The Sea Coast Echo makes a fine Christmas present.

While the powers of the world, armed to the teeth, are talking peace, war in all its atrocity continues in Spain and China. Rioting and no telling what will happen next.

A newspaper headline says, Death of "Perfect Servant" Reveals "Him to Be Her." "Alfred" had served Joseph M. Sears, retired millionaire publisher, for 14 years at Oyster Bay. Death revealed the secret.

New Orleans auditorium is to be air conditioned, announces Mayor Maestri. The cost at one hundred eighty-odd thousand dollars. Large sum of money but it will be worth every cent thus expended and makes for greater usefulness of the big assembly house.

President Roosevelt has found out taxing business in order to restore prosperity and send business uptrend, does not work. It has proven a flop. He has consulted business and other sources, as his message to Congress states, and is now willing to abide by what others have advised.

We Are Thankful

THANKSGIVING DAY, now a national holiday, originated because of the colonists, devout followers of a Divine Father, wished to express their appreciation of bountiful harvests, which meant something to eat for the following year.

This year, the nation has bountiful harvests, although there are few farmers inclined to be thankful about the "blessing" which has reduced the prices of their products. However, in humble spirit, all of us are inclined to give thanks to a Supreme Being for untold benefits and blessings that have come to us. We realize that life has been good, in spite of hardships, and that we are not necessarily deserving of all that we have received.

In a spirit of reverence we pause in a busy Fall to utter appropriate prayers for a beneficence that, upon reflection, we realize is greater than commonly supposed. Our standard of living exceeds by far the eager expectation of past generations and the well-being of our bodies is the envy of the world. No wonder, Americans have felt the need of a special day to return thanks to God.

We are grateful for past progress and we should also be thankful for the opportunity to go forward. Let us give thanks for the past goodness, which has been shared by us, but also, in anticipation, look to the day when these shall be more general distribution of the munificence of nature among the sons of men.

SENATOR PAT HARRISON FAVORS REDUCTION IN BUSINESS TAXES.

ACCORDING to an Associated Press release, Washington date line, statements from Democratic and Republican senators give new impetus to reduce business taxes.

Under the present burden of taxes business is stifled. The government cannot hope to increase wealth by this process.

Senator Pat Harrison, chairman Finance Committee, gave the unqualified assertion that "There must be some modification of the undistributed profits tax."

Mississippi senior senator telegraphed this statement from his Mississippi coast home the latter part of last week to Secretary Morgenthau, and added that "the administration should endeavor to restore confidence to business."

Some, but not all, legislators spoke in the same vein, praising Morgenthau's stand for balancing the budget retrenchment.

Morgenthau had said in a speech Wednesday that some of the taxes which have inspired objections from business and the public might be ended if expenses were cut.

"Under this levy," he said, "a company can't accumulate a nickel to be used for new equipment, plant expansion and reserves."

"We have all the raw materials for an unprecedented prosperity and if the government would give business half a chance we could attain it."

The new deal has tied a mill stone around the neck of business. It cannot recover neither prosper thus weighted.

STATE SEEKS $566,000 REVENUE.

STATE of Mississippi through its state tax collector, J. G. Gully, is seeking to collect $566,000 back tax assessments and penalties against five large tobacco companies of the country that do business in the state.

Gully said the assessments are based on alleged failure of the companies to obtain transient vendor privilege licenses for truck delivery of merchandise in various municipalities and counties of the state. The failure extends over a period of six years, Gully charges.

Just how far the state will be successful collecting alleged back tax indebtedness remains to be seen, but one thing is certain that it will not be paid voluntarily. The fact the companies did not pay the amounts claimed are for reasons best known to the defendants, however, it will have to be shown and proven to the satisfaction of the courts.

Corporations involved and assessments, against each follow:

Brown and Williamson Tobacco Company of Louisville, Ky., $146,703.75; Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company of New York, $114,730.25; P. Lorillard Company of New York, $115,213.75; R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, N. C., $114,489.25; and United States Tobacco Company of New York, $74,676.25.

State law provides that transient vendors must obtain a license, ranging from $50 to $100. The assessments include license fee allegedly due and the penalty.

If the amount is due, and we are inclined to the belief that it probably is, then we hope the state will collect every penny of the amount.

SHOULD SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT.

THE expression that the people should support the government rather than the government support the people will find favor to all right-thinking and substantial minds.

Relief measures have served their purpose, if we may agree to believe this, but cannot continue indefinitely at the expense of a few tax-payers of the nation.

This relief business in all its ramifications under alphabetical identification as they apply to our daily phases of life is somewhat akin to an utopian dream. Sooner or later, it is pointed out, the administration will come to a rude awakening.

When small and other business set-ups are taxed beyond endurance and all life-blood will have been drained, the little fellow and small manufacturer will have no alternative but to give up the ghost.

Hijacking business to bear the burden of a dreamer's mind spells inevitable disaster. It is like killing the proverbial goose.

A WORTHY STEP.

(Biloxi News)

A GROUP of Biloxi Business men, civic leaders and others have decided to take definite action in securing some additional industries for Biloxi. After several weeks of research and organization plans, this group has announced that it is ready to conduct a much-needed thorough campaign to secure industries for Biloxi.

The group is to be known as the Biloxi Industrial Club and is planning to enlist a wide membership, which will pay no dues but the membership will work in every way possible to bring additional industries to Biloxi, regardless of their size or the amount of their payroll.

As we see it, this Industrial Clubing organization in the city and will play an important part in the future welfare and development of the city.

This club is one of the most worthy ones we have heard of in some time and they are deserving of every support.

Biloxi has suffered considerably in the past years because of the lack of diversification of industries. Heretofore the industrial activities of the city centered principally and almost solely on the seafood industry. As a result, business and the city itself has suffered greatly during certain periods of the year.

The industrial-minded group which started the club has a fine program outlined which will, no doubt bring great results. There is no reason why every citizen of Biloxi should not become a part of the club and do all he can to bring about successful results of the endeavors of the organization. We heartily endorse the activities of the club and offer our full support.

HANCOCK COUNTY WAS ESTABLISHED 1812—HISTORIES OF COUNTIES SINCE STATE ADMITTED TO UNION IN 1817—INTERESTING DATA.

BY WALKER WOOD
Secretary of State.

Only a few years ago, some friend inquired as to how many counties there were in the State of Mississippi when admitted to statehood in 1817? There were only fourteen, and all of these had been created as territorial counties, created or established as such from 1799 to 1815 inclusive. You recall that the Mississippi Territory was established in 1798, and a form of government, and was not admitted as a state until 1817.

These fourteen counties, with the date of their establishment, are as follows: The county of Adams is the oldest county of the State—established April 2, 1799; the next oldest counties are Claiborne, Jefferson and Wilkerson, all three established in 1802; Amite, Franklin, Warren and Wayne counties were created in 1809; Marion and Green counties were established in 1811, and Hancock and Jackson—two coast counties—were established in 1812; Lawrence county was created in 1814, and Pike, the youngest of the territorial counties, was created in 1815.

The foregoing counties were the only ones represented by delegates in the Constitutional Convention held in 1817 in the "Old Brick Church" at Washington, Mississippi, to draft and adopt the first Constitution for the forthcoming State of Mississippi. The "Old Brick Church" was Mississippi's first state house. The town, or village, of Washington, located a few miles east of Natchez, in Adams county, was the capital of the old Mississippi Territory, and became the first capital of the new State of Mississippi. The brick church, erected there in 1816, was perhaps the most pretentious building in the community and the most commodious, it was used as the first state-house of the state for some three or four years.

During the first twenty years of Mississippi's statehood, there were forty-one additional counties created, making the total of fifty-five counties in 1840. The fourteen original counties of the new state were very large and later, parts of these counties were taken to compose other counties. Twelve counties were created between 1819 and 1830, inclusive. Then the famous treaties with the large tribes of Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians which occurred during this early period, added much territory to the new state, from which added counties were formed.

As stated at the end of 1830 Mississippi had 26 counties? The treaty at Doak's Stand with the Choctaws in 1820; the Treaty with the same tribe in 1826, aided in securing territory for the twelve counties in that decade. But the famous Treaty of Dancing Rabbit with Choctaws in 1830, and the Treaty of Pontotoc with both the Choctaws and Chickasaws in 1832 opened up large territory in the Eastern, central and northern portions of the State, and as a result, there were 17 new counties created in the Choctaw country in 1833, and another 13 were created in the Chickasaw and Choctaw countries of the State in 1836.

Thus, at the close of 1836, Mississippi had fifty-six counties, and from that year until the close of the 19th century, nineteen more counties were created—the last of these nineteen more counties were created—last of the nineteen being Pearl River, established in 1890. Just seven counties have been created since 1890, these being the counties of Lamar in 1904; Jefferson Davis in 1906; Forest in 1908; George and Walthall in 1910, and Humphreys in 1918.

CIVIC OPERA TO MISSISSIPPI NEW PHASE TO ACTIVITY.

Corporation to be Organized To Develop Young and Talented Vocalists.

Mississippi has another new and promised activity. With the activities for publicizing the advantages of the State and to bring new industries to the Magnolia State, this new activity promises to care for at least one phase of the cultural side of our lives. A movement is on foot, under the promotion of Prof. Wm. A. Deal, of Greenwood, to organize a corporation, to be known as the Mississippi Civic Opera Company. The object of the organization will be to train Mississippi's young and talented vocalists, in order to be able to present to Mississippi audiences Americanized opera performances, and to give our own rare talent, of which the State has a profusion, an opportunity to cultivate and train their talent, not only for profit, but entertainment and culture as well. Prof. Deal has the endorsement and commendation of many of the leading dramatic critics, both foreign and American, and has had years of experience in opera direction. This is regarded as a rare opportunity for Mississippi music lovers.

The American railroads remain the outstanding transportation industry of the country—dependable—progressive—safe. Despite higher operating costs, increasing taxes and strict regulation, they are giving 50% faster freight service, have reduced loss and damage 80%, and are today hauling all kinds of freight—from sand to silk—at an average cost to the shipper of less than one cent per ton per mile. And although some higher rates have just been granted and others are being sought, if all are allowed the price of railroad transportation would still be cheaper than in recent years.

Freight rates on the L & N are down, too. In 1936 shippers over the L & N saved $28,000,000 in freight charges, compared with what they would have paid at the average rate of 1921.

The L & N is proud of its 87-year record in serving the people of the South and hopes to merit their continued patronage.

Whether you have a shipment to make or a trip to take, any L & N representative will be glad to assist you.

"THE GOOD EARTH" STARRING PAUL MUNI AND LOUISE RAINER

M-G-M's triumphant picturization of the famous Pearl Buck novel, "The Good Earth" arrives on the screen on Sunday evening, November 21st, at the A. & G. Theater.

Starring Paul Muni and Louise Rainer, the production of "The Good Earth" emerges as a classic of the screen. Triumphant has been its progress through the major cities of the nation, where similar road-show engagements have been arranged.

Years in the making, and with a fortune in money and time invested in its production, "The Good Earth" has been transferred from the pages of the fine novel to the encompassing scope of the motion-picture camera.

All the dramatic and suspenseful qualities of the story of the simple peasant farmer Wang and his faithful wife, O-lan have been powerfully outlined and presented in a production that sweeps the beholder through the fantastic, colorful, enchanting land that is China. In a graphic series of scenes the heart and soul of this strange country is shown; the burden of dire poverty that is its peoples' heritage and their native courage and strength.

The story starts on Wang's wedding day describes his joy and his terror, follows him to the Great House where he meets his bride, O-lan, for the first time. Then it becomes the story of Wang and O-lan, of their rejoicing at the birth of their sons, their starving during the great drought; their perilous times through revolution and terror in the south; O-lan struggling almost wordlessly for her man and her children, accepting brute labor and suffering as her daily fare.

Walter Connolly, along with Tilly Losch, Charley Grapewinn and Jessie Ralph, heads a cast that numbers thousands. More than 1,000 Chinese players were collected from various professions to lend authenticity to the background. Many thousands of feet of film were shot in China and incorporated into the picture to make the Chinese scenes living, actual pictures. The tremendous climax of the picture, which shows the plague of the locusts that brings Wang back to the land from the soft ways of the city is a photographic recording of an actual plague.

Gift Nite at the Gulf Theater was another fun night. The lucky winners whose numbers were called were Billy Zimmerman, Mrs. G. Waldsford, Harry Bourgeois, Laura Ruhr, and A. E. Irwin. Something new in the way of a gift was introduced Tuesday night, and it proved to be a little black pig with a long pink ribbon on its neck and Charlie Bosarge of Lakeshore was the winner. My of my! how the audience did laugh. These Tuesday gift nites will continue. The Saturday nite bank check will be $115.00. Come and get it. Mr. Ortle has been running some splendid shows, and the big attendance every night is the proof of how good the pictures are. In the near future "Heart's Divided" will be shown starring Dick Powell and Marion Davies.

POLL OF JOBLESS MAY YIELD CURE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Census of Country's Jobless In Progress This Week—Closes Saturday.

A plea from President Roosevelt rallied all citizens to help the government find out this week the number and location of the unemployed. Climaxing weeks of organization for the voluntary census of the unemployed, the president appealed in a radio address for the support of all interested in finding a "permanent cure" for unemployment.

"The permanent cure," he said "lies in finding suitable jobs in industry and agriculture for all willing workers. x x x That is a long and difficult problem to find the answer to and it may take many efforts in the coming years to find the right answer. But in the meantime, we need more facts."

Only those unemployed or partially employed are to return the census cards distributed by 150,000 postmen to every home in the United States.

The cards are to be returned, postage free, by Saturday. When their answers have been compiled, the government expects to know besides the number of unemployed, their age, where they live and what sort of work they are qualified to do.

The President indicated he considered this last topic of great importance, so that there may be "co-operative effort and planning which will lead to the absorption of this unused man-power in private industry."

In preparation for the census, government agencies have rallied national co-operation to an extent not equalled since the liberty loan "drives" of the World War.

Bud Grafting On Tung Trees In Order To Boost Production.

New Orleans, Nov. 6.—Bud-grafting projects which are expected to greatly increase potential yield have been started in Louisiana and Mississippi tung groves.

One of the largest projects is being undertaken on the plantings of the L. O. Crosby interests near Picayune, Miss., under the supervision of Marshall G. Carlton, horticulturist with several years' experience on Liberian rubber plantations.

Mr. Carlton is applying the same methods which he says tripled the yield of the Firestone rubber plantings.

Mr. Carlton said that of the several million tung trees in America, practically all have been grown from seeds, without grafting.

"It is a horticultural law," he said, "that one-third of such trees are just about useless, one third are average and one-third are good bearers."

"Bud-grafting offers a means of bringing all trees into the upper group."

In the process, a bud from a proven tree is grafted to the stem of a poorer producer. Out of the bud a new trunk grows, and the resulting tree is presumably of the same quality as that from which the bud came.

Mr. Carlton's aim is to develop groves with 40 trees to the acre, which he considers the ideal spacing, with an average yearly production of over 200 pounds of fruit per tree.

Bud-grafting has been tried already north of Covington, La., on plantings of W. H. Wagner, Maurice Keen and Captain Conrad Brode. These trees, some of them three years old, have proved early producers and unusually hardy.

Love, residents of Kiln, will be interested to learn he is now on a six-week contract with the Lucius Pryor concert management of New York; touring the cities of that section of the country. —Saturday afternoon football games in the larger cities contribute in no means to the week-end business day since much of the population of smaller towns and cities flock to the games. In Bay St. Louis the situation is felt acutely and works doubly to disadvantage. First there is a general exodus to the city and secondly the week-end visitors to the Coast who motor fail to come out. Saturday afternoon heretofore busy times in adjacent cities now have all the semblance of a Sunday. New Orleans sent out each week thousands of visitors to the Gulf Coast from Friday evening to Sunday evening. With the football season on this influx has ceased. The country has gone football completely.

"HEARTS DIVIDED" HISTORICAL FILM AT GULF THEATER

2Taken from the story "Glorious Betsy" by Rida Johnson Young, "Hearts Divided" starring Dick Powell and Marion Davies with Claude Rains and Henry Stephenson, comes to the Gulf Theater Sunday and Monday, November 21 and 22, bringing together after a long separation that glorious love team of Dick Powell and Marion Davies, in a picture that affords a grand dramatic opportunity.

Cost as Capt. Jerome Bonaparte brother of that great French general, Napoleon, Dick Powell gives a splendid performance, also bringing you the lovely and enchanting melodies of Warren and Dubin. Marion Davies, the bell of Baltimore, is the American love the officer found too great to be denied, and thus lost his rights to an empire.

Remember the date, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 21 and 22.

The Rev. Boyles on arrival here last year at once took his place in the front row of good and active citizenship, he has sponsored every call for the general good, affiliated with every movement calculated for the moral and material uplift of the community. The hope is expressed he will be reappointed to the Bay St. Louis church and continue his splendid stewardship.

WITH THE FISHERMEN.

By Cancha Ketchum.

MANY reports have been coming in lately regarding large catches of all kinds of fish, however, speckle trout predominate. The sport fishermen (of which there are many hereabouts) are going to the casting rod and minnows. Trolling for speckles seems to be the sport of the day.

Speaking of minnows there are many kinds being used. Among the most popular are the Sea Witch, Mac West, Red Head, or Florida Special.

The majority of speckles being caught are of the "school" size, however many big ones were caught over the week-end. No doubt the cold weather of this week will make fishing decidedly better and will probably put pep into the "big ones."

Noticeable of late are the number of couples taking up trolling. Among them out over the week-end were:

Mr. and Mrs. Bish Clark who report good catches Saturday afternoon and Sunday in Jordan river.

Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Speer of Vivian, La., who were vacationing here the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Breath, Jr., are frequently seen in the Jordan river section.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Mollere enjoy both still fishing and trolling. Johnny hooked something big Saturday afternoon that took minnow and all!

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Genin and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott spent Sunday Pearl River and proved that green trout and perch may still be caught with fly rod and plug. Between them they caught 15 large trout and 40-odd nice perch. The trout were caught on the "crispie minnow" and a black and gold spinner on the fly line. The old saying about not catching perch and green trout during the winter seems to be the "Bunk."

They will take the "Shimmy Wiggler" or any other underwater bait.

Donald Monroe of Hattiesburg returned home last Thursday evening with a nice string of green trout and perch. He was highly pleased with his trip and said "it was the talk of the town."

Joe Burrow, C. J. Gordon and "Tony" Piazza did quite a bit of trolling over the weekend and were rewarded with some real beauties.

Dr. B. L. Ramsay and "Turkey" Arnold spent Sunday on Jordan river. Doc spent the morning after green trout and the afternoon after speckles—He caught some speckles.

C. B. Mollere of Waveland and his friends are getting some real pleasure out of his new yacht. Fishing parties are numerous and "Chas"

R. W. Webb School Organizes Parent-Teachers Association

The Parent-Teachers Association, R. W. Webb School, recently organized has held three successful meetings and promises much activity for the immediate future. Mrs. G. Y. Blaize is president and Miss Louvergne Temple is secretary.

An "equipment shower" will be given at the schoolhouse on the afternoon of November 23 at 3:30 o'clock, to which friends and others are invited. The shower is to equip the school with table serving cutlery, glass and chinaware to be used from time to time as the occasion has frequently demanded in the past.

Webb School has quite an enrollment and is one of the successful schools of this section.

says they have made some wonderful catches in outside waters.

Sidney Manieri is again after them on the highway bridge. He usually brings 'em home.

Norman Renshaw and friends were among the many out over the week-end.

Milton Sylvester, local young man, is now in charge of the camp at the end of the seawall. He will be glad to see his friends and is always trying to make their trips as pleasant as possible.

Among visitors noted was a group from Arkansas fishing by the Black Beacon. A lady member of the party caught 60-odd speckles while trolling. She will no doubt take the good news back to her state.

If you must use the other fellow's boat have courtesy enough to ask for it in advance. It will save embarrassment for both yourself and the owner.

Reports from the DeLisle section are to the effect trolling has been good and that "Reds" have been biting well.

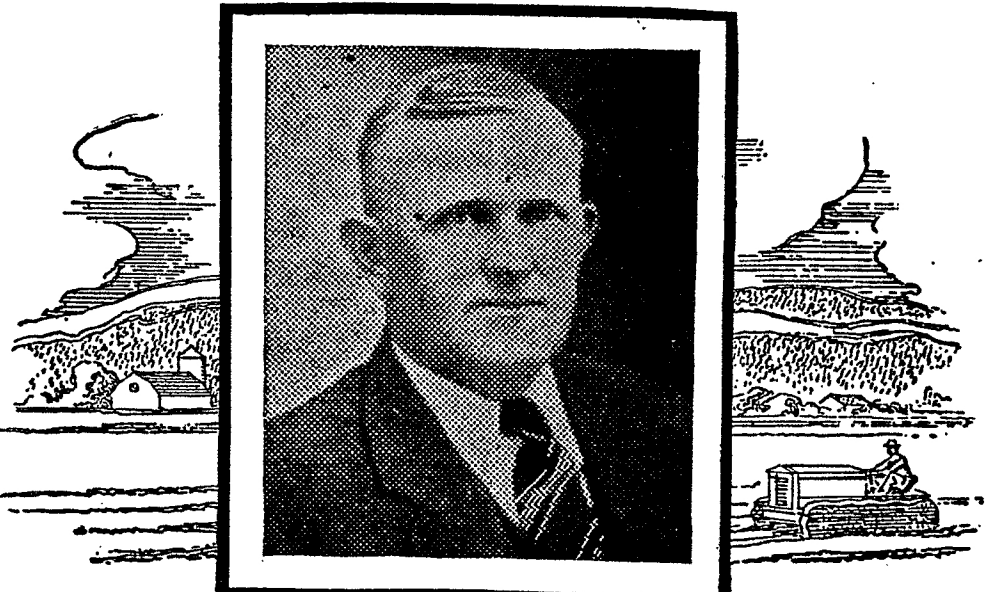

Several negroes from Picayune were seen fishing from the highway bridge Monday night. They were catching croakers, channel fish and smaller ones. Maybe they do feed at night.

Alden Mauffray says that if only had more time he'd do a lot of fishing. He enjoys using the plug for green trout and also trolling in Cat Fish Bayou.

Albert Hitt says that they have not been so hot on the bridge lately.

With the opening of the dove season Saturday fishing will lose many of its devotees.

Any news regarding fishing will be appreciated and will be published in this column. Let us hear from you, occasionally.
